

JEFFRY W. HEALY, PE

Vice President

INDUSTRY EXPERIENCE

42 Years

EDUCATION

B.S., Agricultural Engineering—University of Illinois,
Urbana, Illinois 1978

Post-graduate, Groundwater Hydrology, Wright State University
Dayton, Ohio 1988

REGISTRATION

Professional Engineer—Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Michigan, Ohio and Oklahoma

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

BANNING ENGINEERING, P.C.

Principal Engineer, Vice President

Mr. Healy is responsible for the leadership and guidance of engineering staff. These responsibilities include client development as well as project management, extending from contract preparation to project close-out and follow up. He serves as the hydrology, hydraulics, dam and levee, and agricultural site design leader.

USDA NATURAL RESOURCES CONSERVATION SERVICE

State Conservation Engineer (Head of Staff) and Assistant SCE

Mr. Healy was responsible for the leadership and guidance of the engineering staff. He was also tasked with the standard and specification development and technical review of all engineering work performed by the agency in Indiana.

USDA SOIL CONSERVATION SERVICE

Project Engineer

As Project Engineer, Mr. Healy was responsible for contract supervision, management and inspection of construction activities for federal construction contracts on PL-566, flood prevention watersheds.

PROFESSIONAL AND CIVIC INVOLVEMENT

Indiana Land Resources Council

Indiana Water Resources Association

American Society of State Dam Safety Officials

Indiana Association for Floodplain & Stormwater Management

Hendricks County Soil & Water Conservation District Board

Hendricks County Solid Waste District, Citizens Advisor

The Journey Church, Executive Leadership Team

Strides to Success, Board of Directors

Banning Engineering PC
853 Columbia Road, Suite 101
Plainfield, Indiana 46168
www.banningengineering.com